DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-15 drawn to a micelle comprising of semiconductor nanocrystal, classified in class 428, subclass 379.
- II. Claims 16-49, drawn to a method of distinguishably identifying a cell, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
- III. Claims 50-73, drawn to a method for screening modulators of a receptor mediated response in an encoded cell, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the method of distinguishably identifying a cell can be performed using another product such as magnetic particles or a dye to label the cells.

Inventions I and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions the method of screening modulators and the nanocrystal have different modes of operation, different functions and different effects. The nanocrystal is for labeling while the method for screening does not have a step of labeling using the nanocrystal.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions the methods are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, and different effects. The method of identifying a cell simply detects a cell encoded with a detectable label while the method of screening modulators of a receptor mediated response in an encoded cell comprises the step of contacting the encoded cell with a predetermined concentration of compound to be tested; detecting the signal and detect the mediated response and comparing the response with a response produced in the absence of the compound.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II or III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1641

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Pensee T. Do whose telephone number is 571-272-0819. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday, 7:00-3:00.
